The Seventh Ward Club has been faithful in season and out of season, turning

The Seventh Ward Club has been faithful in season and out of season, turning out on all occasions with goodly numbers in the ranks. Therefore, upon their resolving to have a little boom of their own, a sort of home affair, the club on the 'main-land' agreed to go over and make a display which would be creditable not only to the staunch Republican ward, but to the whole city.

And they did it,

The Island club came over and met the main body of the regiment, which had formed on Main street with the right resting on Twelfth, and was headed by the Excelsior Band, of Martin's Ferry, which did much with its inspiring strains to make the affair attractive. The Young Men's Club was out in full force, and the Juniors had a fair representation in the ranks, headed by a portion of their excellent drum corps. The colored troops were also on hand, and with their usual solidierly bearing, formed no mean feature of the parade. The ward clubs were all in line, in greater or less force, the Sixth ward boys being headed by their famous drum corps, which on this occasion added new lastre to their name. The Central Glee Club was also an attractive feature of the procession. The line of march was taken up across the suspension bridge, and out Virginia to Broadway, up Broadway to Zane, east on Zane to North Front, and north to the junction of North York; thence south to Kentneky, west to Huron, and south to Ohio, on which street they continued the march west to Huron, and northward to the wixwam.

The line of march was considerably modified out of consideration for two ledges who were ill. Mrs. Capt. McLare

The line of march was consider modified out of consideration for ladies who were ill, Mrs. Capt. Mc and Mrs. Hobbs. This kindness w gräceful act, and was highly appreciste by the families, who subsequently co-veyed their thanks to the commandin-officers.

All along the route the residences of Republicans were elaborately decorated and illuminated, and at brief intervals red, blue and green fires were burned, and rockets and Roman candles discharged.

THE ILLUMINATIONS were cheered vociferously as a particu larly elaborate one would come in review. d The most brilliant of all the displays, probably, was that of Mr. Theodore Schreiber, the florist, who bas always been identified with the Democracy. Captain Dovener's grounds were also brilliantly lighted. Among the others whose residences were particularly elaborate in illumination were William Richardson, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Shenerline, Lewis Jones and others.

At the platform, after a piece of music by the band, Sccretary Cowden; of the State Committee, called the meeting to order and introduced The most brilliant of all the displays,

MISS ELLA COCHRAN, member of the committee of ladies o flag presentation. Miss Cochran, in a brief address couched in appropriate terms, made the formal presentation. She said:

Agnes Robertson will appear on Monday next as Arroh Mecish, in Dion Boucicault's great Irish drama of "Arrah-na-Pogue; or, the Wicklow Wedding," and on Tuesday in Boucicault's grand military drama of "Jessie Brown; or, the Relief of Lucknow." We quote the following about the performance of "Jessie Brown" last week in Baltimore. The Gazette says:

"Dion Boucicault's famous military drama, 'Jessie Brown; or, the Hollidav, last night with a strong cast and fine scenic effects. The flactite role was played by Mrs. Dion Boucicault, (Agnes Robertson) who has long been an established favorite, both in this country and in England.

President Hildreth, of the Seventh Ward Garfield and Arthur Club, an nounced that his friend Mr. Charles Foster, of Massachusetts, had kindly consented to make the address of thanks on a behalf of the club. In doing so, briefly, and in aptwords the distinguished speaker referred to the services of ladies in all good works. He dwelt especially upon their loving ministry to the soldiers, of both armies in the late reheliton, and said that when any great movement in the onward march of the people of the world was passed, and came to be reviewed, it would be found that it owed a large measure of its success and more than viewed, it would be looked the state and more than half its grandeur to the influence and sympathy of women. He then gracefully tendered the thanks of the club to Misc Cochran, as the representative of the fair donors of the beautiful flag.

MR FOSTER
then launched out into a general consid eration of pending issues. In opening he dwelt with force upon the importance of each individual ballot cast at an election each individual ballot cast at an election. He discussed the tariff question in a lucid manner, and drew from history facts which proved incontrovertibly the identification of the Democratic party with the free trade heresy. He paid his respects to the mass Qoincy, from Tammany Hail, New York, who spoke to the Democrats at Washington Hail Thursday night, and showed in a vivid light the inconsistency of one with that gentleman's not very savory record, indulging in such silly and worn-out detraction of Garfield. In closing he quoted those grand verses of Lougfellow's, commencing,

"Thou, too sall on, O ship of State," reciting them in an impressive manner that reciting them in an impressive manner that provoked even more enthusiastic applause than that which had interrupted him at almost every phase of his remarks.

After three cheers for the Republican party and its candidates and the ladies of the Seventh Ward, the crowd called for

HON. JOHN A. HUTCHINSON, who was upon the platform, but M Hutchinson merely rose and greeted the assembly, excusing himself from speaking on the plea that the hour was too late. After the meeting a number of the club got together in the Wigwam and tendered the ladies who were instrumental in organizing the movement to present the flag, a vote of thanks, also declaring them honorary members of the club. Information of this fact was conveyed to the laides through Miss Cochran, and the meeting adjourned.

AN "OUTEAGE" THE "REGISTER" Won'T COMMENT ON EDPTOHIALLY.—Last eveloing as the Republican forces were forming on Main street, preparatory to crossing the river to take part in the demonstration on the Garden Spot, some Democrat who doesn't allow his respect for the law to interfere with practical expressions of his hatrel for the "Radicals," threw a large boulder and struck Col. Travis on the bead. The missle struck with crashing force and inflicted a painful bruise. Some decided steps should be taken to stop these infamous assaults, let them be directed against whom they may. If the two parties were to unite, through their Campaign Committees or field officers, and offer a reward for the conviction of any dastard who made a similar attack upon either side it would have a good effect. The very fact that those in authority declared their condemnation of the practice would go far toward stopping it. So far, however, we have heard of but two weil authenticated
